Crash Investigation Starts; Conclusions Due Next Week

A seven man Board met for the first time Tuesday of this week in the investigation of the mid-air jet crash and subsequent double crash in Arlington Heights and Winchester which claimed the lives of two young women.

Colonel L. B. Krogh, Information Service Officer of the Cambridge Research Center at Hanscom Air Field told a News reporter that the Aircraft Accident Investigation Board, composed of specialists in various fields (medical officer, air maintenance officer, flight safety officer etc.) were probing into the possible causes of the tragedy which stunned communities in the area last week.

Colonel Krogh told the News reporter that the Board started out making individual investigations last Friday—talking to witnesses, making tests, etc. He stated that a statement concerning the investigation would be given out possibly by the end of this week or early next week. Meanwhile, the towns of Arlington and Winchester were still in the process of recovering from the near holocaust which struck the nearby towns last week.

Check Sky
Residents who very seldom looked skyward were noted peering intently into the air whenever the faintest indication of a plane was noted.

The mishap which brought residents of Arlington and Winchester and other communities scurrying to the separate points of crash took place just before noon, January 23.

The planes were flying a training mission when they collided at heights estimated at from 22 to 30 thousand feet. The T-33 Training plane crashed on South Border road, Winchester, at approximately 11:32 a.m. near the Medford

Donovan Papers Refused; Hauser To Run Unopposed

John E. Donovan, 37 Ridge st., Arlington, failed in his attempt to obtain enough certifiable signatures and thus his name will not appear on the ballot for the March election in Arlington.

Donovan took out papers Friday, seeking the office of Selectman. He turned his papers in Monday prior to the 5 p.m. deadline, but only 240 of the names on the papers were deemed qualified voters by the Registrars. A minimum of 257 names must be approved before the papers of a candidate can be certifiable.

So with the final date for filing now a thing of the past, the situation is as follows: five candidates for two selectmen spots; one candidate for assessor; five candidates for school committee; and four candidates for housing authority.

Four other residents took out papers for public office but never filed them. Included were Walter Russell and David Leone for school committee, Victoria Craig for selectman and Walter Shaw for assessor.

Shaw and Mrs. Craig had taken papers previously, while Russell took out papers last Thursday, and Leone took out papers on the final date for filing, Monday.

Residents of Arlington and surrounding communities took advantage of the fine weather between "Nor'easters" Friday and turned out en masse for the opening of the M.D.C. skating rink in Belmont near the Arlington line. However, although the ice condition does not necessarily have to be hurt in any way by the storm of this week, actual skating on the wet surface has been.

An estimated one thousand persons took advantage of the fine weather to either watch the opening ceremonies or take their skates. (Continued On Page Two)

Submit Article Just In Case

The High School Additions and Reconstruction Committee has presented an article for the Warrant of the 1958 Annual Town Meeting for consideration in the event that the bids on the proposed additions to the Arlington Senior High School are in excess of the appropriation.

Considering the constantly increasing cost of construction, including labor and materials since the appropriation was authorized, if the bid received would provide for the construction of the high school in its entirety, including the acquisition of required equipment, then the committee will ask the Finance Committee to vote "no action" on this article. The Committee felt that this action was necessary to insure the carrying on of the work already begun on the reconstructing of the Lowe auditorium into 13 classrooms, and will make possible the construction of additional classrooms and gym so desperately needed at the Arlington High School now and in the future.

State and local officials turned out in numbers for the occasion.

The rink will provide a long anticipated practice area hockey for the high schools in the area and for many skaters, young and old who have had to rely on New England's unpredictable weather in the past before going skating.

The new rink is a double surface area, one to be used for hockey purposes and the second for pleasure skating. The area will be lighted at night by seven large, powerful flood lights.

The Route 2 rink, which could be called the newest such ice area in the country will provide an overall area of 264-85 of skating surface.

The Arlington School Citizens Committee met Wednesday, Jan. 22 at the library of the Junior High Industrial Arts School.

Chester F. Protheroe who has served the committee for the past two years as Recording Secretary asked to be relieved of this duty and Sylvia K. Dreyfus was elected the new secretary. Mr. Protheroe will continue as an active member of the committee.

Dr. Bert Roens then discussed the possibility of a special class for gifted children to begin in September. This would be at the fifth grade level, and the children would be chosen by objective testing.

The main item on the agenda was a report by the High School Addition and Reconstruction Committee. Representing this committee were Mr. Donald O. Johnston, Chairman; Mr. Harold Holbrook and Mr. Monahan. It was reported that reconstruction work on the auditorium which will have over 1100 seats is on schedule. The Sub-bids were opened last Thursday and the General Bids for further construction will be opened January 30.

Mr. Leonard W. Quann, the architect, displayed a beautiful model of the buildings, discussed the plans in detail and answered questions.

Plans for a study of the curriculum in our schools will be developed at the next meeting which will be held on Monday evening, February 3, at the Junior High Industrial Arts School at 8 p.m.

Jet Crash

line setting two homes afire; miraculously no one was seriously injured in the area.

The crewmen in the training plane were seen seconds later parachuting to safety. Harold E. Waldmoe, pilot of the T-33 and Captain William Bridges, both attached to the Newburgh, N. Y. base, were picked up south of Boston and hospitalized for treatment.

Meanwhile two 23 year-old lieutenants were plunging to their deaths in the other jet, an F-94 Starfire which somehow plummeted to a resting place amid a row of houses in the densely populated Lowell street sector of Arlington Heights not far from the Lexington line.

Arlington firemen were at the scene of the mishap at 11:36 a.m., just four minutes after the report of the crash in Winchester.

Local police and auxiliary and auxiliary firemen, rushed to the scene in an all out effort to prevent any further tragedy.

Canopy Discovered

Just how many residents in the area saw the Arlington bound jet before it actually came real close to the ground is not known, although one of the first to spot the stricken craft was Joseph Cabral, of Franklin street, Arlington, who was working on a pole on Westminster avenue when he saw the plane hurtling toward the ground close by.

According to Fire Chief Egan calls came flooding into the local fire headquarters concerning the tragedy. Engine 4 and a ladder truck from the Highland avenue station were quickly dispatched to the scene and alarms were sounded at Box 771 at Lowell street and Westcourt terrace at the same time Box 143 sounded in Winchester, 11:38 a.m.

Even as the plane struck in the yard behind the home of Richard and Marjorie Shea in the rear of 243 Lowell street, persons seemed to converge on the spot from every direction.

Many early arrivals found the local fire department soaking the craft with water to prevent any possible fire or explosion. Arlington police had their hands full as curious onlookers kept edging closer to obtain a closer look at the scene.

The two airmen were taken from the wreckage and pronounced dead by Dr. Feley.

Sections of the plane were found near the Arlington-Winchester line (a wing). The canopy was discovered in the Menotomy road-Gray street area.

The Air Force Base at Bedford was quickly alerted to the disaster as lieutnant Cabral sent in a direct call to the Air Base and the Arlington fire department utilized its special disaster plan agreement with the air field. The local department calls the base immediately in the event of any plane crashes.

Legion Notes

Arlington Post 39, American Legion, made its first blood donation of the year to the State Veterans' Hospital, better known as the Chelsea Soldiers' Home.

This blood is used to replenish the supply used by veterans who are hospitalized. A number of veterans went to give blood, but because of colds only the following were selected: Joseph C. Keohane, Richard O'Brien, Leo Byrne, James Cusack and Nicholas T. Sackos.

The second donation of blood will take place at the Soldiers' Home in March. Post 39 and Auxiliary have already signed twenty members to donate.

The American Legion's Blood Bank has never refused a veteran who needed blood. All requests have been filled.

Ninety new members of Arlington Post 39, American Legion, were initiated as new members January 28 at Memorial Hall, Legion Headquarters.

Chief Praises Auxiliary Unit

The following letter of thanks and appreciation was sent to the Arlington Civil Defense Coordinator Philip Sweeney last week by Police Chief Albert E. Ryan in connection with the work of that group at the scene of last week's jet crash.

Lieutenant Philip A. Sweeney, Coordinator
Arlington Auxiliary Police
7 Central Street
Arlington 74, Mass.
Dear Lieutenant:

Please convey my sincere thanks and appreciation to all of the members of the Auxiliary Police for services rendered in the vicinity of the plane crash on Thursday, January 23, 1958.

Their quick response to the scene assisted immeasurably in containing to a minimum the utter confusion, hysteria and dislocation of vehicular traffic usually attendant in situations of a like nature.

Once again they have demonstrated their true worth and value to the community. With kindest personal regards to all, I remain,

Very truly Yours,
Albert E. Ryan
Chief of Police

14 Seniors Pass Navy Officers Test

Fourteen boys who are members of the senior class at Arlington High have successfully passed the Navy's mental tests for candidates as Naval Reserve Officer trainees. Upon completion of the college course they will be commissioned as officers in the Navy, and are committed to serve a stipulated period of six years in either active or reserve status.

Miss Susanne Kendall Weds Frank Scammell

Miss Susanne Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Lynn Kendall of Rochester, New York, became the bride of Mr. Frank Scammell, son of Mrs. Frank Scammell of Arlington, and the late Mr. Scammell January 25 in the chantry of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Rochester, New York. The Reverend George Leslie Cadigan performed the 3:30 ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of ivory silk bombazine. Re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed the high scoop neckline and the long pointed sleeves of her gown, which had a fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was bordered by heirloom rose point lace worn by four generations of the bride's family. She carried a bouquet of Eucharis lilies and stephanotis.

Mr. Joseph L. Wannamaker of St. Matthews, South Carolina, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She was gown in deep American Beauty red velvet and carried a bouquet of pink anemones which matched her headband. Mrs. Warren Bulette of Sharon, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. James Stewart of Bedford, Pennsylvania, were bridesmaids. They were gown to match the maid of honor.

Little Win Anne Wannamaker was flower girl for her aunt, and carried a nosegay of pink anemones with her flock of deep American Beauty red velvet.

Mr. Thomas Scammell, U. S. Army, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers included Mr. Henry Scammell, also brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Bard Crawford, Mr. John Brown, all of Boston, and Mr. Peter Haeberle of Lewiston, New York.

Mrs. Kendall, the bride's mother wore a navy blue satin gown with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore deep rose accessories with her gown of varicolored silk.

The bride was graduated from Wells College. Mr. Scammell prepared at the Browne and Nichols School for M.I.T.

After a honeymoon in Nassau, the couple will make their home here in Arlington.

Within Town Limits

By Walt Moynihan

Of interesting note in the recently completed and approved Annual Report of the Arlington School Committee are two or three items relative to possible changes at the high school and at the vocational school.

One item mentioned is the possibility of an increase in the length of the school day with longer periods extending for one hour instead of the present forty minutes, and the possible adoption of the Kenyon Plan involving the preparation of students for college at an earlier age than they would normally be admitted.

The item relative to Vocational School notes the beginnings of a screening process being developed which would call for the admission of only those students who have demonstrated ability and seriousness of purpose to profit from trade training. According to the report this process has resulted in a significant rise in the level of performance of these pupils.

The goal, it is stated is to eventually admit only students of good academic ability who have high mechanical aptitudes, and to eliminate the pupils who regard vocational school as an easier way to obtain a high school diploma.

See by a Boston publication that members of the Waltham school committee and the city council will have snacks, coffee and cookies, etc., during the long sessions at which they discuss such items as new schools, budgets, salaries, etc.

From what we can understand via the grapevine, the special election for a representative which would include Arlington precincts 1, 3, and 5 may not be held for some time, maybe as far off as next June, and there is a possibility that it may not be held at all.

The fact that there has been no snow in this area up until early this week does not mean that traffic hazards have been completely eliminated.

Some snow did exist along the sides of the roads, plowed there by plows during the heavier snowfall earlier in the winter. Normally this piled up snow does not present any great danger to the average driver unless he is forced too far to the side of the road.

However, man-made hazards can be made to exist when residents seeking to clear the front of their homes of the last remnants of earlier snowfall, chip this hard packed snow and in some cases ice, and throw it into the street to melt.

We have seen this very thing done in Arlington and also in neighboring communities.

In some cases the snow has been thrown from the side of the road onto curved areas of roadway where driving is never at the best under dry conditions.

It seems to us these persons who throw snow onto the roadway could allow it to melt normally rather than throw it in the street where it suddenly appears in front of the unsuspecting driver who is driving along under non-snow conditions.

The change in the majority vote by-law will be voted on again at the annual Town Meeting in March. If passed, it would mean that the majority indicated by vote would be the majority of those meeting members present. If defeated it would mean that the majority vote would be the majority of the entire Town Meeting membership, whether present or not, in the situation as now exists.

We heard a logical explanation last week as to why so many more windows were broken at the Hardy school than at other schools last year. The reason — more stones available at the Hardy.

Arcadians Meet Maroons, Battle For AHA Birth

The Arlington Arcadians and the Berlin N. H. Maroons will meet in an exhibition hockey game at the Bowlin College Arena at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, February 1, it was announced today.

The Arcadians are the New England Champions of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States, while the Maroons were runners-up a year ago.

"The scheduling of this exhibition game should be good news for Maine hockey enthusiasts," Director of the Arena Danny Mac-Fayden said today. "Many fans will remember that these two teams battled it out for the final championship game last March at the Arena. Three weeks ago they played at Berlin before a capacity crowd of 1500 spectators, splitting two decisions, 7 to 6 and 4 to 2.

"Both clubs will be fighting for this game to be assured of selection in the coming AHA Tournament in March. Berlin Coach Al Adams and Jack Pav of Arlington have both told me that their teams will be at full strength."

MAGNIFICENTS BEAT SPUTNIKS TO WIN CHI-RHO FIRST HALF CHAMPIONSHIP

The St. James Chi-Rho Bowling Club held its 9th meeting of the year January 19 at the Lexington Center Bowladrome, 1698 Mass. avenue, Lexington. The first half of the bowling season came to an exciting finish as the two top teams, the Sputniks and the Magnificents, met in a playoff to determine the first half winner. After two hours of bowling, both teams remained deadlocked.

A final playoff string was arranged and the Magnificents, led by Dick Strachan, emerged victorious by the smallest of margins. Strachan set a new high three string record for the year with a sizzling 343 total.

In the final playoff string he led all bowlers with a 125 mark. The next meeting is scheduled for February 2 at 7:45 p.m. at the Lexington alleys.

MELROSE BLANKS ARLINGTON 2-0 IN G.B.I. TILT; MEET AGAIN IN PLAYOFFS

Stonham high school and Medford high school battled to a 1-1 deadlock in the final regular season contest in the G.B.I. hockey league last weekend thus enabling Arlington high school to hold on to the fourth and final spot in the first division by a single point, despite a 2-0 shutout administered by League champion Melrose.

In other games, Belmont moved into a three way deadlock with Stonham and Medford in point standing by wallowing winless Rindge 7-0. The Cambridge club thus completed its season with but two goals in the goals for column while the opposition was denting the Rindge net for 42 markers.

Unheralded Cambridge Latin, the surprise team of the loop this season, battled off Newton and finally emerged with a 2-0 decision good enough for a second place finish, three points behind champion Melrose. Newton had to settle for third place with a 3-2-2 record.

Dick Fletcher of Melrose beat Arlington net-minder Tom Apprille twice in the first period and that proved to be enough for the defending champions.

Fletcher tallied first at 5:24 in the opening period on a 10 foot shot with Wayne Bingham and Barry White picking up assists on the play.

Just over three minutes later Bingham fired at Apprille, the Arlington goalie caught the puck, but it slid down beneath his skates and Fletcher kept digging at it with his stick until it slid into the net.

In the first round of the playoffs this weekend, Arlington meets Melrose and Newton once again tangles with Cambridge Latin in the First Division, while Rindge faces Medford and Stonham plays Belmont in the second division.

The winners hopped to a 31-15 first half edge and then romped to an easy victory, outscoring the locals 29-27 in the second half.

Knerre with 20 points, Keating with 13, and Solberg with 11 points led the way for the winners, while only Scully with 13 points could hit in double figures for the Arlington team.

President Says Little League Ready For 1958

Gerard Bartholomew, president of the Arlington Little League announced today that Arlington's franchise's for 1958 season have been accepted by the National Headquarters in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. Arlington rolls into its eighth consecutive season, and according to president Gerry, baseball is just around the corner.

Mr. Bartholomew also stated that National Headquarters has streamlined all of the districts in the state, and also throughout the entire country. The main purpose for re-districting is to cut travel time during tournament play, and also to create more districts for better representation at the National Congress.

Gerry continued with the fact that Arlington is now in District 13 which is composed of teams from Medford, Winchester, Belmont and Watertown. There are approximately 16 teams in each district.

He further stated that in behalf of the Arlington Little League, he would like to extend his thanks to Wm. B. Houser, of the Houser Linoleum Company, for sponsoring a team in the Northern League for the past six years. The citizens of Arlington and especially the youth will be ever grateful to Mr. Houser for his tremendous support. The officers of the Arlington Little League are now in the process of screening applicants who have stated in the past that they were desirous of sponsoring a Little League team to fill the above mentioned vacancy.

Divine Love's inexhaustible power and abundance will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

Matthew's account (ch. 8) of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's servant will be included in the Bible passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon on "Love."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (494:10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

The Golden Text is from 1 John (4:7): "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

School Taxes Compared

Some interesting information is contained in the annual report as approved by the Arlington School Committee last week.

Chairman of the Committee David Ashton notes in his section of the report that information reported by the Massachusetts Teachers Association indicates that the Arlington taxpayers gets an excellent return for each educational dollar spent.

The information referred to lists some twenty-two communities in the eastern section of the state, noting their total tax rate, school tax rate, and percentage of tax rate included in the school tax rate.

The percentage of the total tax rate noted as school tax rate for Arlington is lower than all but three of the communities listed have spent more on school construction than Arlington.

The List of Communities Tax Rates as reported by the Massachusetts Teacher Association are as follows:

Month of Opportunity

February is a month of opportunity, here and across the state and nation. It is Heart Month.

The Heart Fund is a campaign to the hearts of New Englanders, as we have shown by giving it increasing support each year. It more than meets Yankee standards for measuring the worth of a fund request: it is really needed; the funds will go to work in a field holding a potential for major improvement; the organization seeking the funds is one of proven effectiveness and dedication.

Let's examine the situation. Cardiovascular disease kills more people, not only in the nation and state, but right here in this community, than all other causes combined. This, incidentally, applies equally to those under 65; it is far from being a disease solely of old age. In Massachusetts, 22,333 persons died of cardiovascular disease in 1956 and since the turn of the century the rate has risen nearly 300 per cent.

The basic secrets of the heart's most lethal disease still lie hidden in the future, yet through Heart Fund research, and much of it right here in Massachusetts, there has been more progress in this vital field in the last generation than in the entire preceding century. Other discoveries as great as the pacemaker, the "artificial heart", potent drugs to fight high blood pressure, penicillin therapy which saves our children from recurring rheumatic fever—all developed in

Babson Discusses

WASHINGTON

Exclusive NEWS Feature

It is not my place to discuss politics in this column. Most of us are Republicans or Democrats according to where we live or how we were trained as children. This means that the birth rate will largely be the deciding factor under a democracy.

DEMOCRACY AND ECONOMICS

This further means that democracy, with everyone having a vote irrespective of character or education in government, is crazy and cannot long continue. There must be a shakedown sometime and a return to the republic which Washington, Franklin, and Hamilton established in 1788. We have drifted far away from our original ideals.

I am, however, allowed to discuss economics in this column. Let me start by saying that no one knows what will be the effect on business and investments of the "unemployment cushions" which have been devised to prevent another real depression.

SOME UNANSWERED QUESTIONS

Will the insurance of bank deposits prevent a money panic when banks begin to fail? Will unemployment insurance give confidence to business and the stock market when millions are idle and walking the streets? Can employers be forced to employ people at a loss? In short, will these laws which businessmen and investors are counting on really work?

I am not disputing the ability of these new laws to do some good. They will relieve much suffering and encourage some consumer buying; but will they create confidence, or will they, instead, make business more fearful? No one knows. These "pacifiers" have not yet been tried. No true business depression has occurred since these "humanitarian" laws were enacted. My point this week is to emphasize that no one knows whether existing legislation will create confidence or increase fear.

REDUCING STOCK MARKET MARGINS

Let us consider the recent reduction of stock market margins from 70 per cent to 50 per cent. This was done by Washington to make it easier to buy stocks; but stocks are very different from food. We buy food to eat; but we buy stocks to sell at a profit.

Instead of increasing confidence in stocks, this action by well-meaning Washington bureaucrats has frightened investors, who fear that the real inside conditions may be worse than the public expected. Therefore, this act, at this time, has done more harm than good. Now what will be the effect when the various other palliatives are put into force? They will relieve hunger; but will they cause investors to buy stocks or automobiles? I don't know—and no one else knows.

WHAT ABOUT ECONOMIC LAWS?

Economic laws can be temporarily ignored; but they cannot be long ignored. Economic forces cannot be seen; but neither can electric forces be seen. Even now, no one knows what electricity is, where it comes from, why it travels, or where it goes. Yet, we all use electricity continually. Economic forces are just as powerful even though they cannot be seen. For Congress to try to ignore them is like legislating that "2 plus 2 must hereafter make 5."

Almost every Congressman believes in his heart that the present regulation of farm prices is a mistake. They believe that Secretary Benson is basically right, but they dare not say so for fear of losing the farmers' vote. What the ultimate result will be, no one knows. Some say these artificial prices will finally end our present form of government. We dare not say so because neither I nor anyone else knows.

Certainly we are skating on ice of unknown thickness. One person whom I see is very bearish; another is optimistic. We are all toying with questions to which neither Congress nor the President knows the answers. Following the depression of the Thirties, Congress enacted many "cure-alls" to relieve pain. These should work for a while in relieving hunger, warding off failures, and performing other acts of mercy; but in most cases they may serve only as mustard plasters or aspirin when our people need a change of character, almost a religious conversion. Previous depressions were allowed to last until selfishness was replaced by unselfishness; until inefficiency was replaced by efficiency; and dishonesty by honesty. Now Congress plans to bring back prosperity without restoring these fundamentals of unselfishness, efficiency, and honesty. Can this safely be done?

WHAT IS SCIENTIFIC EDUCATION?

Washington apparently thinks that Science refers only to physics and chemistry. This is a great mistake: Economics, sociology, and merchandising are sciences of equal importance. Russia can give us some great surprises along these lines, far more important than "Sputniks." A nation progresses only by a balanced education, not by going off half-cocked on one line. What will the young physicists and chemists do if we enter upon a workable disarmament program? They will be "a dime a dozen."

Were I a young man or woman today, I should become an expert on the subjects taught at Institutes of Business Administration. The graduates of such institutions will be in great demand as we approach disarmament. Almost every sane man in Washington will admit that the ultimate choice is "Disarmament or Destruction." If World War III comes, all our schools may be laid low and their graduates killed!

Massachusetts—need the research our funds will make possible.

Only the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations, which sponsor the Heart Fund, are devoted solely to the ultimate conquest of cardiovascular disease. Around the calendar, year after year, they wage an independent war of research, of professional and public education and of community service to save lives and preserve health, their single purpose undiluted by other aims. The results have been more than we dared expect a decade ago.

Let us work for and contribute generously to the Heart Fund, as a matter of simple common sense and in a spirit of investment in healthier hearts.

Alumni Club Holds Dinner

"Artificial Earth Satellites" will be one of the subjects under discussion at a combined dinner meeting of three Boston University's alumni clubs February 6 at 7 p.m. at the University's conference center, Osgood Hall, North Andover. In addition a discussion of the University's development program will be held.

The three clubs which are holding the joint meeting are the Arlington-Lexington-Winchester Club, the North Shore Club, and the Belmont Club.

Those appearing from Somerville were Carl Dawkins of 9 Malvern street and Gordon Boraks of 95 Cedar street.

From Beacon Hill

BY JAMES G. COLBERT
Former Boston Post Political Editor

A number of legislators have indicated privately that they will not vote for a State withholding income tax unless some forgiveness plan is worked out to avoid double taxation for Massachusetts wage-earners during the first quarter of 1959.

As the State withholding tax is now proposed and contemplated, Massachusetts residents would have State income taxes deducted from their wages for three and a half months in 1959 before they paid their taxes on their 1958 earnings.

The State would begin taking its bite out of the first pay envelope in January, 1959, while the State income tax on 1958 income would not be due until April 15, 1959.

That aspect of the proposition is troubling some of the more thoughtful law-makers, entirely aside from the question of whether or not the State withholding income tax would smoke out enough tax-evaders and bring in sufficient additional revenue to warrant its imposition.

A fairly deep-rooted suspicion exists in some quarters on Beacon Hill that the State withholding tax is being advocated by Governor Furcolo principally because it represents a gimmick by which he can balance the State budget for one year without enacting any new taxes which would have a painful impact.

The so-called $13,000,000 "windfall" which the Commonwealth would receive in 1959 is being discussed as if it were a gift which were going to fall from the sky into the State treasury or were going to be picked out of the air by tax collectors.

Unfortunately, that doesn't happen to be the fact. Unhappily, too, it really isn't a windfall unless you maintain that the State can find a windfall by forcing the people of Massachusetts to pay 15 months of taxes in a 12-month period.

Until Paul A. Dever came into office the people of Massachusetts used to pay their State income taxes in two installments, one on March 15 and the second on Oct. 15.

Then ex-Governor Dever conceived the idea of solving a budget problem confronting him by collecting 18 months of taxes within one fiscal year. So he obtained the passage of a law providing that the entire tax had to be paid on March 15. Later the date was moved back to April 15 so the people wouldn't have to pay their State and federal taxes at the same time.

Now Governor Furcolo is using an adaptation of Dever's idea. By having the payment of the 1958 and 1959 State income taxes overlap he would bring in an extra three months of taxes during the fiscal year which runs from July 1, 1958, to June 30, 1959, and in so doing help to ease the budget headache confronting him.

It's a nice, easy, pleasant plan—for everyone except the people who will be called upon to pay their 1959 tax while they are trying to get the money together to pay their 1958 taxes.

No one can predict with any certainty how much additional revenue a withholding tax would bring into the State treasury, apart from the "windfall" resulting from double taxation.

The best educated guesses place the figure somewhere between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Reflection on System

Whatever the amount proves to be, it will come from tax-dodgers and evaders—from people who are neither filing any return nor paying any income taxes.

It would not seem that Massachusetts has too many residents still in that category.

There undoubtedly are some persons who have moved recently to this State from other sections of the country and are not paying any taxes and persons whose income has recently increased, placing them in the brackets where they should pay an income tax to the Commonwealth.

If there are any substantial number of people who have lived in Massachusetts for an appreciable period of time and have successfully dodged and avoided the payment of State income taxes, it not only would be surprising but also a reflection upon the efficiency of our State tax system.

The ranks of the tax-dodgers in Massachusetts have dwindled during the past five years. Many thousands of them have been welcomed into the fold of law-abiding, tax-paying citizens.

During one year of ex-Governor Harte's administration some 126,000 tax-evaders were smoked out and frightened into making returns and paying taxes.

A determined effort was made last year by State Tax Commissioner Joseph P. Healey to dig out the tax-dodgers, and those still abstaining from the payment of their rightful State income taxes are presumably no longer very numerous.

So even the $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 estimate may prove in time to be too high. And it also will be necessary to deduct from any additional revenue, which is realized the extra expense which will be imposed upon the Commonwealth in processing a withholding tax and making refunds with

To The Men In Blue

Early reports of the disastrous jet crashes in Arlington Heights and in Winchester last week were not yet pinned down as to exact location, before hundreds of residents of Arlington and surrounding communities, and transients in the area suddenly seemed to emerge from behind every tree and hill.

As the news flashes increased in frequency and the reports on the double tragedy became more detailed the traffic became heavier and the work of Arlington's "men in blue" became that much more difficult.

First-comes at the scene, many who lived only doors away were no-doubt surprised to find Arlington's fire and police units already on the spot in a matter of minutes after the accident took place.

When the jet first plummeted its way, almost impossibly it seems, between the rows of homes in the area the unknown danger or explosion was ever-present. Having burrowed its way into the ground and with parts flying in all directions, the plane was thoroughly soaked with water by the local department even before the throngs of curious onlookers reached the scene of the mishap.

Arlington's police department seemed to appear out of thin air, so to speak, to hold back the curiosity seekers and to re-route and keep traffic flowing from the section.

The action of the Town's "men in blue" firemen, policemen, auxiliary units and civil defense—was so highly thought of that the Arlington Board of Selectmen Monday night requested that the Town Manager write a letter praising these men for their fine work.

—And deserving they are of this praise—we should all take our hats off to those public employees who made it to the scene so fast and did such a fine job throughout. Miraculously, the Town escaped a possible holocaust when the plane crashed between the homes, but more death and destruction might have been the case if the plane had exploded and fire spread in the area.

To the men in blue—a task well done.

hood a graduated income tax will be adopted in Massachusetts if the Democrats gain control of the Governor's chair and the House and the Senate in next November's election.

But Holland then went on to predict that if the legislators do enact such a law they would regret it to their dying day because of the loss of employment which would result from it.

That is precisely the point which opponents of the graduated State income tax have been striving to make. Coming from a man who is a staunch defender of the Democratic party, it may cause Democratic law-makers to stop and ponder.

There is no question that the adoption of a graduated State income tax would cause many business executives to shun Massachusetts and that a loss of employment opportunities for citizens of the Commonwealth would result.

Yet, plans are being carried forward on Beacon Hill to have the Legislature take the first step toward the enactment of such a tax this year. It is a step that will be fraught with economic danger, as Holland so vigorously indicated.

Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers declares that he is determined to show to the people of Massachusetts that Democratic politicians "are not the spend-thrifts they are too often considered to be."

That is considered to mean that the able and sharp-eyed Powers intends to go over Governor Furcolo's budget with a fine-tooth comb and to prune it wherever possible.

Where the Governor last year fought for the passage of the form which he submitted, this year he has asserted that he would welcome any cuts which can be made in it. It seems plain that Powers and other Democratic legislators intend to take him at his word.

NAVY-HIGH-WIRE MAN — Arlington Selectman George A. Harris "Boston American" correspondent is cabled across the U.S.S. Kennedy to U.S.S. Saratoga and now has a certificate of being a Navy-High-Wire man which is similar to having bailed out of a plane and being a "caterpillar" man.

Official Photograph U. S. Navy.

Selectman Spends Rough Days On Atlantic; Becomes High Wire Man, Lands By Copter

Invited by the Secretary of the Navy to a Mid-South Atlantic cruise, Selectman George A. Harris was assigned to the destroyer U.S.S. Kennedy. This ship was one of the two dozen or more that were in maneuvers with the Carriers Saratoga and Essex.

Mr. Harris' adventures on his first trip to sea were above and beyond all his expectations. His first surprise was to meet Lieut. Commander John P. Morine of the Naval Reserves, on his two-weeks' tour of duty on the Kennedy. Mr. Morine is a member and past chairman of Arlington's School Committee.

After putting to sea, the Kennedy ran into rough weather for nearly six days. The second day out, somewhere below Cape Hatteras, in rough and angry seas, Selectman Harris saw the ship of a tanker, the U.S.S. Allagash, by cable stretched between the two ships. He reports it as "a masterful bit of seamanship."

On January 16, on invitation of Captain A. R. Matter of the Carrier Saratoga, Mr. Harris was high-wired from the Kennedy. High-wiring is the Navy's way of transferring personnel at sea. A cable was shot to the Kennedy and fastened, and Selectman Harris was carried over to the Saratoga by pulleys and a crane.

He spent three days on the Saratoga, being present when the Carrier Essex caught fire and watched the recovery of some 20 planes from it, left in the air, unable to land on it. Fortunately, the Saratoga was but 45 miles from the Essex and all planes were recovered by the Saratoga. On the Essex about 20 were injured.

Lands by Copter

On Saturday, January 18 Selectman Harris was returned to the Kennedy by helicopter, in a rough sea. He stated, "I was encased in a life preserver, taken into the air, flown over choppy seas to the Kennedy, some 500 yards away. I was lowered to the deck, with the helicopter hovering about 40 feet above it, by a sling and cable. I swayed in the wind, sometimes above open water, until I felt the deck under my feet. Disengaging myself, I grabbed a hook on a bulkhead to complete my first helicopter boarding."

Mr. Harris continued, "I now have a certificate of being a Navy High-Wire man which is similar to having bailed out of a plane and being a 'caterpillar' man."

On Monday, January 20, at 5 a.m., the loudspeaker awakened me with the cry, "All hands on deck to assist in recovery of jet pilot who landed in sea." I was on deck as the destroyers Kennedy and Ware tracked a smoke bomb and its glare, in rough seas, to a point astern of the Carrier Essex, and after half an hour, saved the pilot. His plane was lost. The Ware picked him up, unharmed.

On Monday, at 11:10 a.m. came the big adventure. The ship's fire alarm sounded. The loud speaker cried, "All hands to General Quarters. Fire in forward fireroom (boiler room)."

"An oil explosion had evacuated all hands in this boiler room," stated Mr. Harris. "But one young Navy man, died in the flames and steam. Heroic efforts of trained firefighters of the Navy finally reached him below decks but he had died, almost instantaneously. With the fire out of control for almost two hours, we were covered by the destroyer Ware which ran alongside us at about 200 yards, to take us aboard if we had had to abandon ship."

"Finally, the fire was out. We were ordered back to Newport, R. I. for examination, inquiry and repairs."

"My impressions were of efficiency, alertness, excellent seamanship and good food and my commendations to Captain John W. Maddox of the Kennedy, his officers and men, for courtesies above and beyond expectations," ended Selectman Harris.

"Decisions" Groups Swing In High Gear Next Week

Arlington's Decisions 1958 discussion groups on world affairs will hold their first meetings next week. One meeting will be held at Robbins Library Tuesday morning at 9:30 with the discussion led by Mr. Ewan Fletcher. Another informal group will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Blackwood on February 5, at 8 p.m. The remaining groups will meet on Friday at 8 p.m. in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackmon, Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Linton, Captain and Mrs. F. Wolak and at Robbins Library. The topic for next week's discussions, "Can We Deal With Russia?" will be the first in the series of eight discussions on America's role in the world today.

Anyone wishing a discussion on world affairs who no longer want to "leave it to the experts," call Mrs. Edward Holland, Community Decisions chairman in Arlington, MI 3-0588, or the World Affairs Council of Boston, CO 7-6675.

Massachusetts Senators have endorsed Decisions: "A splendid contribution to a better understanding of our country's position in world affairs" (Saltonstall); "never before has it been so important that... our citizens... be fully informed on these important policy questions. Therefore, I heartily endorse the efforts of the Council... and take this opportunity to wish you the very best of success in your program for 1958." (Kennedy).

AIM TO REPEAT

Decisions 1958 aims to repeat its successful predecessor, Decisions 1957, and the thousands of participants in last year's discussions form the nucleus of this year's expanded program. Across the nation millions are participating again to prove that a well-informed citizen is entitled not only to form his own opinion but also to register it with policy makers in Washington.

Groups in libraries, schools, and mainly in homes are going to discuss such key policy issues as: What Security in the Rocket Age? —Awakening Africa, Promise or Threat? —Whose U.N. is It? —based on objective, up-to-date and concise fact-sheets prepared by the Foreign Policy Association, the non-partisan, educational, nationwide sponsor of Decisions 1958.

Decisions kits with all discussion aids are available at Filene's suburban stores. The kits include

recommend nylon velvet?

I sure do. No shoe in my experience has extracted so many compliments from parents as the nylon velvet party shoes.

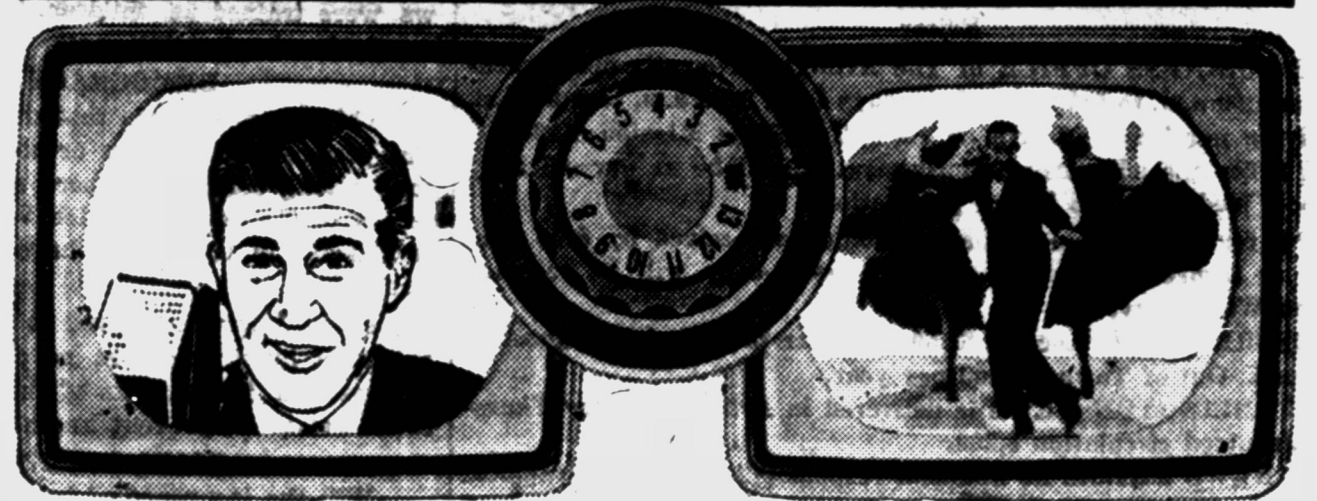

Unlike suede, they do not get shiny when they are given rough wear. They do not crease or check. Spots can be washed off. Wearing boots over them gives them a steam cleaned look.

I can't dream up any health reason for recommending nylon velvet except maybe, that selling them is closely tied in with this writer's nutrition.
